DISTRICT COURT HEARINGS

Impressive Funeral Services Over Remains of Mrs. Etta Russell.

Patsy Healy Putting Up New Business Block on Washington Avenue - Alleged Car Burglars Bound Over.

In the district court yesterday, in the matter of the estate of the late Gustav Hamel, Otto Hamel, a brother of the deceased, and an heir to the estate, filed an objection to the final account of the administrator, J. H. Knauss. He objects to the allowance of the items $45 paid as fees for ap praising said estate, also the item of $134.50 for special compensation of said administrator. The petitioner also objects to the petition for final destribution, claiming that the portion of the estate in the firm of Foley and Hamel was not Mr. Foley's interest alone but that the Hamel portion of said estate belonged to the heirs and was sold by them to Thos. C. Foley.

F. C. Woods and Co. have just com-pleted plans for a two story brick and sandstone building, to be erected by Patsey Healy on Washington avenue, next to the Patterson building. The old frame building will be torn down.

The new building will be another adorement to Washington avenue. I is said that the Healy building will be occupied by the Ogden Furniture and Carpet company.

BURGLARS BOUND OVER. John Allen and James Ryan, the two men arrested on suspicion of having burglarized a Union Pacific car containing merchandise, were given a pre-liminary hearing before Justice Joseph Hall yesterday, and bound over to the district court under $500 bond, which they failed to furnish, and were turned over to the sheriff. The articles that were stolen from the car consisted of shoes, gloves, underclothes and tobacco, all of the value of $56. The preliminary hearing was conducted by County At-torney Halverson, C. M. Depew, store keeper for the Pacific Hotel Co., testi-fied to the goods stolen and identified the goods found on one of the prisoners and what was found by the officer as being the goods stolen. FOURTH DISTRICT COURT. The case of Wm. Boweter vs. W. H.

Kelsey and Selina Kelsey, his wife, was heard yesterday before Judge Marioneaux. Figintiff sues for $800 with in-terest from May 5th, 1883, less $500, which has been paid. The plaintiff ai-leges that the $800 was loaned to defendants and the evidence of the in debtedness was a mortgage on Spring-ville real estate, there being no note given except the note which was included in and a part of the mortgage. He further alleges that the mor(g. ge was released in 1899, in order to save the payment of taxes on the mortgaged with the understanding that the re-lease of the mortgage should not invalidate the claim of plaintiff against defendant, and after the release, it is alleged, the defendants refused to pay the money due the plaintiff. The de-fendants deny that there is anything due plaintiff, alleging that all the mon ey due him had been paid when the mortgage was released. After hearing evidence and arguments the case was taken under advisement till this morning, when the court ren-dered judgment in favor of defendants, there being "no cause of action."

John F. Thurgood and Fred A. Thurgood, of Provo, natives of England, were admitted to citizenship.

APPLICATION FOR DISCHARGE. Mrs. Lydia Brown, a patient at the asylum, committed from Salt Lake City, October 12, of this year, was brought before the court on affidavit by her husband, John G. Brown, to the effect that he believed that Mrs. Brown was sane and asked that she be re-stored to her liberty, and asking that she be examined as to her sanity. The examination was conducted by Dr. Taylor, before Judge Marloneaux. The questions directed to Mrs. Brown were answered intelligently. She said that when she was taken to the asylum something was given her or she was worried, she did not know which, but she did not know what she was doing. She had gone out to look for her son about whom she was worried, and ther she remembered the officers came and took her. After that she did not remember things distinctly till she was taken to the asylum. Miss Cluff, one of the attendants, test fled that Mrs. Brown had appeared drowsy and had not spoken much when she first came to the asylum, but had spoken intelli-gently when she did speak. Mrs. Brown explained that the reason she did not speak was because she did not know where she was, and did not know that the rules permitted her to speak.

Mr. Brown, and other relatives, tes-tified that they had seen Mrs. Brown since she was admitted to the asylum and she had seemed to them to be of sound mind, but thought she was sick. Mrs. Brown in her examination ulso Mrs. Brown in her examination also said she was sick and could not answer the questions asked as well as she coulwhen her health was better. It also came out in evidence that Mrs. Brown had been greatly troubled about one of her sons who was addicted to drink.

Dr. Taylor, after examining Mrs.
Brown, informed Judge Marioneaux that she needed rest and medical attention and would recover provided the irritating domestic conditions were re-moved, and that while she was not now insane, she was not in normal condition, mentally or physically. Judge Marioneaux, after hearing the evi-dence was of the opinion that he could not discharge Mrs. Brown, not being satisfied that she had recovered, and she was returned to the asylum. Her relatives will apply to the court in Salt Lake for her release on bonds for her safe keeping.

RE-NAMING OF STREETS

In Anticipation of Free Postal Delivery-Wedding Permits. Special Correspondence.

Logan, Oct. 17 .- At the meeting of the Logan city council held Wednesday evening, the committee on streets recommended an elaborate plan for the renaming of the streets of this city. The plan was adopted, and is largely similar to the Salt Lake system. Second street is to be named Center street. ond street is to be named Center street. and the other streets are to be numbered from that and Main street Thus, the first street east of Main street is to be called First East street, the second, Second East street, and so forth, in all directions from Main and Center streets. The streets are also to be labeled at each corner. The new system is adopted because it is believed Logan will obtain free delivery in 1902.

Dust—Business is Thriving.

Special Correspondence.

St. George, Washington Co., Oct. 16.—
Walter J. Kemp, of this city, died last night from the effects of the fatal De Lamar dust. For several years he has, part of the time, been working at painting and other labor around the mills, where he thought himself safe from the dust that has caused the death of so many men who have been induced by the better wages paid at those works to seek employment there. Bro. Kemp leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely death. He was the son of William Kemp, one of the early settlers of this city; they were of hardy, stalwart stock from the NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A
